2017 COMMON READ REFLECTS ON CAMPUS HISTORY

In celebration of the 150th anniversary of Minnesota State University, Mankato, Out of Chaos: Reflections of a University President and his Contemporaries on Vietnam-Era Unrest in Mankato and its Relevance Today will serve as the 2017 Common Read book. Compiled by former Mankato State College President, James F. Nickerson, the book is a collection of reminiscences from students, faculty, staff and community members focusing on the events that occurred on campus and in Mankato during the turbulent 1960s and 1970s.

With financial and staff support from Library Services, a documentary film, based on the events described in Out of Chaos, was created by students in the Film Studies program at Minnesota State Mankato. The film, Two Weeks in May, was also made possible through financial support from the English Department and a grant provided by the Prairie Lakes Regional Arts Council from funds appropriated by the Minnesota State Legislature. Using historic photos, film footage, documents, audio recordings, and recorded interviews, the film tells the story of the May 1972 student protests at Mankato State College.

The World Premier of Two Weeks in May will be held at the Common Read Keynote Event in the Centennial Student Union Ballroom at 7:00 p.m. on Wednesday, November 1, 2017. This event is free and open to the public. To view a trailer of the film visit <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=dVWof-0vuCDU>.

The Common Read website, available at <https://www.mnsu.edu/commonread>, includes a calendar of events, book discussion questions, and resource lists. In addition, twenty Learning Activities were created to support the exploration and understanding of the book and the history of Minnesota State Mankato (<http://libguides.mnsu.edu/OutOfChaosActivities>). Topics include: the Vietnam War, the Draft, Abbas Kessel, Bomb Threats and Tear Gas, and more.

The Common Read Committee encourages anyone interested in Out of Chaos to begin first by reading alumnus David Phelps's section on pages 106 through 119. This section provides readers with an overview of the events that occurred on campus and in the country.

Graduate Online Symposium Highlights Student Research

On April 17, 2017, eleven presentations were launched as part of the first Graduate Online Symposium. Sponsored by the College of Graduate Studies and Research, the Graduate Online Symposium is an opportunity for graduate students to give a brief presentation about their research and creative activities. Rather than presenting at a conference on campus, these digital presentations are made available online through Cornerstone, which preserves a record of the scholarship and creative activities of the University's masters and doctoral candidates. To view the presentations in the Graduate Online Symposium, visit <http://cornerstone.lib.mnsu.edu/gos/>. Details on the next Graduation Online Symposium will be coming soon, but if you have questions, contact Heidi Southworth, Digital Initiatives Librarian, at heidi.southworth@mnsu.edu.

MEMORIAL LIBRARY 1967-2017 CELEBRATING 50 YEARS

Minnesota State University, Mankato and Library Services invite the campus and the community to a celebration of Memorial Library's 50th year on Monday, October 2, 2017, from 2:00 to 4:00 p.m. While Memorial Library has experienced many changes over the last 50 years, one thing remains constant. Memorial Library continues to be the academic center for Minnesota State University, Mankato.

When the Memorial Library opened its doors on October 2, 1967 the Library's holdings included 160,000 volumes and 1,600 periodicals. Today, six times as many books (more than a million!) and 60 times as many online and print periodicals (more than 100,000!) are available to library users. In addition, the library building was expanded with a major building project in 1992, and today also has an "all-weather" pedestrian connection to other campus buildings.

Dr. Joan Roca, Dean of Library Services, encourages faculty, staff, students, alumni and all interested community members to come and experience the Library's transformations: "It is very fitting that the University's celebration of the 150th year since its foundation include recognition that our 50-year-old Memorial Library can be proudly showcased as a modern facility offering a caring and professional staff, high quality services, carefully selected resources in many formats, state of the art technologies, and a variety of comfortable, flexible study spaces to serve the needs of 21st century students."

If you would like more information about this celebration, please contact Leslie Peterson at 507-389-5952 or email at outreach@mnsu.edu.

Library Services faculty and staff look forward to the 2017-2018 academic year and to celebrating the 50th anniversary of Memorial Library.
